THAT GAS DISPLAY.

It Looks Now as if Pan-American Delegates Won't See an Exhibition.

THE GAS OFFICIALS LUKEWARM.

Sending Out the Invitations for the Swell Hotel Reception.

THE WESTINGHOUSE LIGHT EXHIBIT

The invitations to the reception to be tendered the Pan-American delegates at the Monongahela House Thursday evening next were received by the Secretary of the Chamber of Commerce yesterday afternoon. About 200 invitations will be issued. A list of those who are to get them will be made out by the Chairman of the committee this morning, and they will be mailed at once. There is a great demand for the invi-tations and quite a number of those who are expecting to receive one will be sadly disappointed.

A meeting of the General Reception Committee will be held this afternoon. The different sub-committees will report the progress of the work. Details, etc., will be arranged, and a report of the Finance Committee will also probably be read.

The display of the Westinghouse interests in machinery hall will be something won-derful. Among the different machines to be displayed will be a 3,000 light alternat-ing current dynamo, which is the largest machine of its kind ever manufactured.

A DISPLAY OF LIGHTS. On the top of this dynamo will be a pony.

A. C. machine for 15 lights. It is the smallest electric light dynamo ever made in this country. Other light machines will be a 35 are light dynamo, a 750 light dynamo, a 150 dinest approach light dynamo. a 150 direct current light dynamo and a motor generator. Most of these machines will be running and a large number of will be running and a large number of lights will be operated by them. A five horse-power Tesla motor, operating a printing press, will be a very attractive piece of machinery, proving the fact that alternating current dynamos can be made a success. Souvenirs will be printed on the printing press and presented to the

A Westinghouse rotary engine, unique among the inventions of modern mechanics, will also be on exhibition. This is the first rotary engine ever seen in public, because Mr. Westinghouse has only lately completed the invention. This rotary engine, a 350 horse-power machine, will operate all the electric dynamos. The Shallenberger meter will be on exhibition, and its works may be observed and examined.

IMITATION OF A BORDER.

An imitation of a stage light border will also be shown with a stage light regulator, demonstrating how the brilliancy of electric lights can be decreased and increased. An exhibition of lamp coil will also be made in the display.

There is a great possibility that the natural gas display, which was to be the principal feature in the mechanical exhibition, will not come off according to the pro-gramme of the committee. The latter have misunderstanding with the Philadelphia Company. The officials of the company say they want to make the exhibit a success, but are not voluntarily doing anything about the free use of their gas. One of the officials of the company when seen by a DISPATCH reporter, resterday, said:

"I do not know anything about the proposed display. The committee has not been to see me about the matter and I do cleaning operation.

The work of decorating the building was begun yesterday by Roenigk Bros. A scheme ison foot to have the building thrown open to the public on Saturday next, after the departure of the Pan-Americans.

At a joint meeting of the managers of Carnegie Bros. & Co., Limited, and of Carnegie, Phipps & Co., Limited, held at their branch offices, 48 Fifth avenue, Pittsburg, on October 3, 1889, the following resolutions

Resolved, That as this firm, in all its history, has never been called upon to record a loss so tragic as that which has deprived it of its great manager, Captain William Richard Jones, so neither has it ever lost an officer whose services were more valuable or to whom it was more deeply indebted for the success which has attended its opera-

Resolved, That valuable as the services of Captain Jones have been, not only to us but to steel manufacturers in general, the remembrance of these fade away in the keen pangs of grief awakened in us by recollections of our friend, the man.

Resolved, That the history of steel manufacture will record his name with those whose joint labors have brought the art to its present state of perfection, and in the list of men who have risen from the ranks through the possession of indisputable genius to commanding positions as organ-izers and managers of masses of men in the industrial armies of this age, the highest rank must be accorded to Captain Jones. Resolved, That to us, his employers and friends, who knew him intimately through many years of almost daily intercourse there is still left in our grief, though he is gone, the precious privilege of meditating upon a combination of manly qualities, which constitute the real man, and which, united in him, gave forth that indefinable but rarest quality, character; a brave, just, honest, transparent soul; a staunch, loyalhearted, generous friend was he, whose ab-sence from us and from our conneils we to-day so deeply mourn.

Resolved, That his life should have been sacrificed in our service must ever hereafter tinge our thoughts of the Edgar Thomson Steel Works with feelings of profound re-gret, and yet we would not forget that the Commander fell at the head of his men, at the post of duty, smid the roar of the vast establishment, which was his work, and which is his monument. A heroic end was his, worthy of the soldier he was; for Cap-tain Jones fell upon the field which he had conquered.

Resolved, That the firm cannot forget the faithful men who died or suffered with their Captain. It bogs to thank the survivors and to assure them that it appreciates, to the fullest extent, their devotion to duty; and the profound sympathy of the firm is hereby offered to Mrz. Jones and her family, and to the families of those who were stricken by the recent grievous accident.

Resolved, That these resolutions be enrossed upon the minutes and copies for-arded to the bereaved families.

Who never wore ready-made clothing in their lives will be surprised and delighted with the garments we are selling to-day for $13 and $15. They represent overcoats really worth from $28 to $35. P. C. C. C. Cor. Grant and Diamond ats., opp. the new Wasted, Everybody to Know The excellent reputation of the New England Mutual Accident Association for fair dealing and prompt payment of lesses.

That, since organization, "A" risks have not been required to pay more than $3.00 per quarter—exclusive of membership fee—for $5,000 insurance and other classes but little more.

That on this small cost to members the association has promptly met all liabilities and accumulated a reserve of over $25,000.

That the good record of the association, the trifling cost of the insurance and very wise provisions of Massachusetts laws regulating insurance, make it the most desirable accident association to insure in.

That, having been a member, and allowed the certificate to lapse it may be renewed without any extra charge.

And that agents can make more with the New England than other accident associations.

reporter, yesterday, said:

"I do not know anything about the proposed display. The committee has not been to see me about the matter and I do not know what they intend to do. I was always opposed to that kind of a display, as I think it is considerable of a nuisance. The street department turned a lot of men loose yesterday afternoon on Duquesne way. With a liberal use of a large hose they soon had the street looking as clean as a celluloid collar. All the side streets leading to the Exposition building will also undergo the cleaning operation.
